Enjoying the pressure of the moment, the same way I did while preparing for IIT-JEE.

I am literally not sure how to start, but all I want to say that I am enjoying this moment. There is so much happening with me, and I am gladly I am the only one responsible for all it.

The joy of being in pressure which I had experienced during my High School, when I was preparing for my Indian Engineering Entrance Exam, also popularly known as IIT-JEE.
